ABOUT ME

I am an electronics and communication engineering student with a focus on being a full time investor and entrepreneur.If I have to describe myself with three fitting attributes then diligent, efficient and hardworking will be best suited. From the early days of my childhood I am very fascinated by the process, how wealth centralizes only to small fraction of a population, later on researching and going through few books I came to realize that making money is nothing but an art and on further research I stumbled upon derivative and commodity markets. From then on I started to grow interest on that particular field mesmerized, where money makes money. So in order to stack up more knowledge on the given field I am looking forward to work in the best place I could ever find.
